Dr. Bob Invites You to Join Him in Santa Fe for a Legacy Imperative Workshop

October 27 - 31, 2019

This Present Crisis

Ronald Reagan said: “Freedom is never more than one generation away from extinction.” Research shows that the next generations – our children and grandchildren – are virtually non-religious, support the LGBTQ agenda, would prefer to live under socialism, have little sense of identity, and are unaware of the values on which our faith and nation were built. By 2024, they’ll comprise more than 45 percent of voters and will direct the course of the nation for the next 50 years. Perhaps forever. The future is in our hands and now is the time to act!

THE TOOLS TO PASS ON JUDEO-CHRISTIAN VALUES TO THE NEXT GENERATIONS

Grandparents Are Key

Research also shows the key to averting the crisis: Grandparents, beloved by their “grands,” exempt from parenting rules, with time to invest in what’s most important. This makes them ideal to forge the future. The quandary: How to do it? How to relate to kids with views shaped by the media and educational elite, glued to mobile devices, and with limited attention spans? Complicating this crisis: When different generations attempt to communicate with each other, they may as well be strangers in a foreign land.

The Legacy Imperative – the Answer

The Legacy Imperative equips you with the tools to pass on Judeo-Christian values of faith, family, and country to the next generations. Our goal is to help you understand the culture and electronic world grands inhabit, and how to communicate values in a language and manner that are relevant to them.

Compelling Workshops that Forge the Future

In this tour and workshop series, you’ll learn how to communicate your faith, family, and our nation’s principles to the next generations in a meaningful way. The workshop will:

- Provide next-generation profiles and demographic information.
- Teach how to share and write your story of faith, culture, family, and country, so that grands want to be a part of it, and pass it on.
- Teach how to transmit values and faith to skeptical kids.
- Show how to implant a lasting sense of identity and worth.
- Demonstrate how to employ new media platforms.
- Provide a glossary and lexicon of next-generation terminology.
- Provide continuing support, on-line help and Legacy updates to keep you up-to-date and engaged.
